TRADEMARKS
Washington, D.C. 20231

Paper No:02162005
Application No:10/802602
Filing Date:March 17,2004

1. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed. It should be brief but technically accurate and descriptive, preferably from two to seven words. See 37 CFR 1.72(a).

2. The drawings are objected to because the blank rectangular boxes and/or merely numbered boxes of figures 1,2 must be labeled. Conventional features disclosed in the description and claims, where their detailed illustration is not essential for a proper understanding of the invention, should be illustrated in the form of a graphical drawing symbol or a labeled representation (e.g., a labeled rectangular box). see 37 CFR 1.83(a). It is further pointed out that merely numbering the boxes is not considered an appropriate label. This allows identification of the drawing element without consulting the text of the specification. Correction is required.

3. Claim 10 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Art Unit: 2837

Line 2, terminology of "on" appears that it should be "one".

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claims 1,2,7,8,11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Lence Barreiro et al (6516923).

Lence barreiro et al teaches in figures 1-26, an elevator auditing/maintenance system.

1) A lift installation (figure 26) has sensors (not numbered) for monitoring the doors (not numbered), buttons etc. for monitoring the door, sensors, vanes etc status over time.

2) Col. 2, lines 14-40 illustrate some of the criteria monitored including sensors (DD-FF), doors (R-CC) and other maintenance actions.

7) DD-FF

8) Figures 5,6 determine bounce.

11) Cols 16-20 illustrate storage/generation of maintenance messages.

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 3-6,12,13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lence Barreiro et al and Moore et al (4512442).

Art Unit: 2837

Lence Barreiro et al does not illustrate the system connection between the sensors/monitoring unit.

Moore et al teaches that for an elevator monitoring system which improves maintenance by comparing limits with usage data. Moore teaches that it is advantageous to provide on-site and remote monitoring by which the on-site monitor can contact for service and the remote monitor can store long term data for preventative maintenance.

As illustrated, the sensors can be connected in bus configuration and connected in terms of site which is interpreted in terms of cars rather than stories (see figure 2a).

8. Claim 10 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

9. Claim 9 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The prior art does not teach or reasonably suggest the use of two or more redundant sensors or two sensors operating in time series.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Perala et al., Huang et al., Coste et al., Schianda et al., Pepin et al and Liu et al are cited to illustrate similar elevator monitoring/maintenance systems.

A shortened statutory period for response to this action is set to expire 3 months from the date of this letter.

Failure to respond within the period for response will cause the application to become abandoned. 35 U.S.C. 133
